WHO MOVED THE STONE

Who moved the stone, who rolled away
The Law on that bright Easter Day
To set us free, no longer bound
When faith in Him in truly found

Who took the curse upon the tree
Atonement for humanity
Despair that plumbed the deepest place
For us, from Him, God turned His face

Who raised the Son of Man from death
And gave His life a second breath
To conquer sin, one sacrifice
Was paid to evermore suffice

Who takes our stony heart of sin
And puts His Spirit new within
To live as He commands us to
Obedient in all we do

Who loved us first that we might love
And seek the God of hosts above
We know the Father through the Son
And praise the mighty Three in One
