ALL I HAVE IS YOURS

Everything I have and all that I possess
Is Your gift to me flowing from Your graciousness
Everything is Yours, whether life or love or land
Nothing I achieved by the strength of my own hand
All I have is from You alone
All I see is what You have shown
All I know is what You make known
Everything I have and all that there will be
Belongs not to me.

Everything I want is not everything I need
Only You provide, all the rest is sinful greed
All the plans I make are but foolish certainty
Bowing to Your will and almighty sovereignty
You alone set the bounds of time
You alone will my life define
You alone portion all that's mine
Everything I am and all that I will be
Belongs not to me.

Every earthly treasure will come to pass away
All is vanity at the ending of the day
All that shall remain is my one eternal soul
Longing for the day when in Him I am made whole
All I have is from You alone
All I see is what You have shown
All I know is what You make known
Everything I have and all that there will be
Belongs not to me.
